To whom it may concern:

This statement is to confirm the soy protein isolate used in the manufacture of Complete by Juice Plus+ shake mixes (Chocolate and Vanilla) is minimally processed using water to remove both fats and carbohydrates from the soybeans. Unlike other plant-based protein sources, soy is considered a complete protein since it contains each of the essential amino acids our body needs for cell metabolism, tissue-building and repair, and energy production.

For questions regarding this statement, contact The Juice Plus+ Company Quality Assurance department.

Sincerely,

Mary Crocker
